

Dockside Scene

The making of the movie "On Golden Pond" moved to Holderness yesterday where a dockside scene with Katharine Hepburn and Henry Fonda was filmed. An estimated 500 fans watched quietly then applauded the movie stars after the scene was filmed. In this scene

Miss Hepburn is being greeted at the lakeside store. The young woman at the left is Kathleen O'Hara of Sprucewood Drive, Gilford, an "extra" and third stand-in for Jane Fonda, who also has a feature role in the movie.

'Golden Pond' Scene Filming Attracts Crowd at Holderness

HOLDERNESS — Hundreds of movie fans crowded into this lakeside community yesterday to watch Academy Award winners Katharine Hepburn and Henry Fonda do a scene for "On Golden Pond," the multi-million dollar movie which is being filmed on Squam Lake.

All automobile traffic along Route 3 and boat traffic in the channel near Squam Boats, Inc. was held up for short intervals while the cameras were rolling.

Fonda and Hepburn portray Ethel and Norman Thayer Jr., a retired couple who are spending their 48th summer season at a lakeside cottage.

Also featured in the film are Jane Fonda, Doug McKeon, William Lanteau and Dabney Coleman.

Most of the filming is being done at a privately-owned home on the Centre Harbor Neck side of the lake. One scene is scheduled to be filmed at the Melvin Village Community Church.

A special exemption was granted by the Screen Actors Guild to allow production to continue even though the actors are on strike. A clause in that exemption states that the production company will not generate any publicity about the film while it is being made thus making it difficult for The Citizen to keep area residents posted on the film's progress.

A film spokesman said "On Golden Pond" is expected to be released in the fall of 1981.
